Useful information

Why do I need to fill in this form?

- You can only vote at elections if your name is on the register of electors
- Not registering is an offence and you could be fined up to £1000
- The register may be used by people to decide whether or not to give you credit. If you are not on the register, you may find it difficult to get a loan, to open a bank account or get credit

You must fill in this form even if you do not want to vote.

What happens next?

Fill in the form carefully and return it to the Electoral Office (for the addresses of the area offices phone the helpline or check the website - see below for details). Remember that this form contains personal information which could be of interest to criminals. You should return it only to the Electoral Office for Northern Ireland.

- We need one form for each person.
- You must give your date of birth and your National Insurance number and sign the form yourself - no-one else can sign it for you.
- You must be a British, Irish, Commonwealth or European Union citizen, and you must give your nationality on the form.
- You must have lived in Northern Ireland for the last three months

When we receive the form, we will check the information you have given. We will change or add your details on the register within six weeks if we accept your application. We will send you a letter of confirmation which will also give the date the changes come into effect.

If we need more information we will write to you. We may ask for proof of the information you have given.

What are the edited and full registers?

The edited register. If you tick the 'edited register' box, your name and address will not appear on the edited register, which anyone can buy or use for any purpose. Any person, company or organisation including 'junk-mail' companies can buy a copy of the edited register for business activities such as marketing.

The full register lists the name and address of everyone who is registered. By law, certain public organisations and people, including politicians, can receive the full register. Anyone can look at it but it is a crime to supply or use the information for purposes other than those allowed by law.

Credit-reference agencies can use the full register, but only to check your name and address if you are applying for credit.
